Not a good experienceBy Donna S.Book arrived as promised and appeared to be new, also as promised, but when I went to use it I found that the CD-ROM was missing. This would not have been such an issue were it not for being unable to download the needed forms from the website. It keeps telling me that the email I have used for years was not properly installed and therefore the acct cannot be activated. And of course if the acct cannot be activated it won't let me download anything. So far this book has proved to be fairly useless and of course the return date expired 2 days ago. So, unless you can ascertain somehow that the CD-ROM will be included, I would not buy this book.3 of 4 people found the following review helpful. Vitally Important for EveryoneBy Bonnie B NeelyMAKE YOUR OWN LIVING WILL from ENODARE is a very complete guide to everything you need to prepare your own living will. As laws requiring the medical staffs to do everything possible to resuscitate someone who has stopped breathing make it difficult to die with dignity every person needs to have in writing his or her own wishes pertaining to accidents or death. Laws and forms for each state vary, and the paperwork must be exactly right in order to be followed. This book has the up to date forms for each of the 50 United States and helps you fill them out, explaining how to get things in order according to your wishes and in order to help your family make difficult decisions. These documents also significantly reduce health costs and are required by most hospitals. Get this excellent book today and don't put off filling out the forms to put with your will and other legal documents and with your doctor's files. 8 of 11 people found the following review helpful. Couldn't Have Been Easier to Make a Living Will By Alexandra I used this will writing book to make a living will. As well as state specific forms, it has clear and precise instructions on how to make a living will - so it only took me 10 minutes to make my living will. It also has excellent information on different life-sustaining medical treatments, history of advance directives, DNR orders; storage of living wills and much more! I definitely recommend it over other books I've read on living wills and advance directives.

A Living Will gives you a say in the medical procedures you receive if you're permanently unconscious or terminally ill and unable to communicate your instructions. Have you considered what you would want to happen if an accident or illness left you in a coma or in a permanent state of unconsciousness? Or, what if you were diagnosed with an irreversible terminal illness? Would you want to have your life prolonged by any means possible - even at the expense of your quality of life? Or, would you prefer to have a natural death? A living will allows you to instruct your healthcare providers and your family regarding the use or non-use of certain life-sustaining medical procedures in the event that you are terminally ill or permanently unconscious and unable to communicate your wishes. The provisions in your living will generally apply where you are unable to communicate your wishes and after doctors have examined you and agreed that medical procedures will only prolong your death. Enodare's lawyers have put together a book which, in plain English, tells you all you need to know about living wills. The book is called "Make Your Own Living Will". "Make Your Own Living Will" introduces you to living wills, the types of medical procedures that living wills cover, the matters that you need to consider when making a living will and, of course, provides you with all the relevant forms you need to make your own living will! In this book, we also look at the various legalities surrounding the making of living wills, when they come into operation and what types of medical procedures they cover. We also take a close look at related documents such as healthcare powers of attorney, do-not-resuscitate orders and organ donation cards. You will be provided with step-by-step instructions, detailed information and all the state specific legal forms necessary to prepare your own living will. Don't wait until it's too late - Make a Living Will NOW!
