

(Library ebook) Making Environmental Law: The Politics of Protecting the Earth

Making Environmental Law: The Politics of Protecting the Earth

Nancy E. Marion

*ebooks | Download PDF | *ePub | DOC | audiobook*

Download

Read Online

#4012878 in Books Marion Nancy E 2011-08-10 Original language: English PDF # 1 9.21 x .88 x 6.14l, 1.65
#File Name: 0313393621368 pages Making Environmental Law | File size: 73.Mb

Nancy E. Marion : Making Environmental Law: The Politics of Protecting the Earth before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Making Environmental Law: The Politics of Protecting the Earth:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. There is a major error on literally the first page ...By D.R. Adams There is a major error on literally the first page of this book -- Marion claims that the job of the White House commission set up to investigate the BP Deepwater Horizon oil spill "became a little bit easier under HR 5481," which gave the commission subpoena power. Yes, that bill passed, but it was blocked by Senate Republicans, so the panel never received that power. When such a glaring error is made just three paragraphs into a book...yeah, you probably shouldn't buy it.

From Eisenhower to Obama, this book provides a comprehensive analysis of the policies Congress and the president have proposed and passed to protect the environment over time. Tables summarize key legislative acts Index of all bills listed in the text An appendix with a timeline of important dates in the history of environmental law

About the Author Nancy E. Marion is professor of political science at the University of Akron in Ohio. Her published works include numerous books and articles on politics and crime policy, the most recent being The Public Policy of Crime and Criminal Justice.