

(Free download) Marriage and Divorce- A Social Relationship in Bangalore City: Marriage and Divorce

Marriage and Divorce- A Social Relationship in Bangalore City: Marriage and Divorce

Ramachandrappa S.

*DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

Ramachandrappa S.

Marriage and Divorce- A Social Relationship in Bangalore City

Marriage and Divorce

 Download

 Read Online

2012-08-15Original language:English 8.66 x .23 x 5.911, #File Name: 3659216623100 pages | File size:
56.Mb

Ramachandrappa S. : Marriage and Divorce- A Social Relationship in Bangalore City: Marriage and Divorce before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Marriage and Divorce-
A Social Relationship in Bangalore City: Marriage and Divorce:

The social and Sociological factors were discovered more responsible for family conflicts particularly among more higher and middle classes than economic and physical factors. Of the total cases studied the first initiate in filing the suit in the court was taken by women. Husband and wives with higher incomes, with higher level of educational attainment and with service are more likely to take initiative for legally breaking the marriage than the couples with low income. In most of the divorce cases, the wife left the husband's house long before the filing for divorce. Though the subject of divorce is charged with emotion yet it may be asserted that marital stability, divorce and post-divorce are not a matter of rational planning. Failure of marriage is not the result of lack of knowledge on the part of the husband and wife or lack of facilities and comforts, rather even with the best of intentions and intelligence, partners may not always make a happy home. People with modern values choose the alternative of divorce without necessarily having the idea of remarriage in their minds.

About the Author Ramachandrappa S, is a post graduate in Sociology, from Bangalore University, India and currently pursuing his PhD in Sociology, from Bangalore University, India. His area of research includes, Family Disorganization, Family Kinship, Marriage and Divorce.