[MEI] GE LEI GE BAI ER : More happy love make marriage law(Chinese Edition) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised More happy love make marriage law(Chinese Edition):

What people really want to get are true love and good marriage. This relationship is a result of the independent choices by both parties. Listen to and accept your spouse and unconditionally love each other. We want to control others. Including our spouse, it just because we are empty and have worry and we believe that control over others means self safety and less helplessness. In fact, we can look the world from another angle and bring life with true love. Real capacity is to change our own feeling and behaviors, instead of controlling others. People divorce because they can not get true love and do not want to endure life without true love. People divorce because fake love can not always bring them happiness, and they feel being cheated. Insist on being honest to all people and create an opportunity for other to love you and you to love others.
