Mark A Roseman : Nursing Homes, Assisted Living Facilities and Hospice Care Guide for South Florida before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Nursing Homes, Assisted Living Facilities and Hospice Care Guide for South Florida:

The selection of nursing home care for a loved one or friend is often a difficult task. To do the right job, one must be prepared for the time-consuming effort of gathering the many facts needed to help in the decision-making process. Finding the right facility is all-important to a loved one's well-being. The facility selected will be the person's home and community sometimes for the remainder of the person's life. If you think you will need a nursing home at some time in the foreseeable future-for yourself or a relative- it will pay to plan ahead. Many good nursing homes have long waiting lists, and the chances of getting placed in the home of your choice will be greatly enhanced if placement is made on a waiting list prior to the actual time of need. Also, this will give you time to get mentally adjusted to the idea of the change. Unfortunately, the choice of a nursing home is often made in a crisis atmosphere when time is short and minds are troubled. Selecting a home is an important decision - one that deserves foresight and careful clear-headed consideration.
