

(Read free) Patent Litigation in China

Patent Litigation in China

Douglas Clark

*ebooks / Download PDF / *ePub / DOC / audiobook*

 Download

 Read Online

#403142 in Books 2011-08-03Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 6.10 x .80 x 9.10l, 2.20 #File Name: 0199730253320 pages | File size: 29.Mb

Douglas Clark : Patent Litigation in China before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Patent Litigation in China:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Very detailedBy Eric shafferGreat in-depth coverage of patent prosecution, appeals and litigation in China. Also covers infringement and defenses such as clinical trials which I have not seen elsewhere. The method of presenting evidence at trial is great for any lawyer going into China for patent or defective product.

The rise of China's economy has led to a substantial increase in disputes involving intellectual property rights, including patents. Not only are foreign companies suing domestic companies and domestic companies suing foreign companies, but patent disputes between foreign companies are also being litigated in the Chinese courts. Patent Litigation in China, by Douglas Clark, provides U.S. and other non-Chinese practitioners with an overview of the patent litigation system in China. Strategic commentary is provided to enable those contemplating or involved in patent litigation in China to better comprehend the risks and challenges they face, as well as to ensure better decision-making by those responsible for bringing or defending patent actions. The book covers the tests for patentability grounds for invalidating patents before focusing on evidence gathering, litigation strategy and procedure, as well as considering defenses and remedies. The key differences between the Chinese, U.S. and other more mature patent systems are highlighted throughout the book. Appendices include Chinese to English translations of the Patent Law of the People's Republic of China; Implementing Regulations of the Patent Law; Interpretation by the Supreme People's Court on Several Issues regarding Legal Application in the Adjudication of Patent Infringement Cases; Several Provisions of the Supreme People's Court for the Application of Law to Pre-Trial Cessation of Infringement of Patent Right; Several Provisions of the Supreme People's Court on Issues Relating to Application of Law to Adjudication of Cases of Patent Disputes.

"There is a need for a comprehensive and authoritative monograph on patent litigation in China. This book, being the first on the subject, fulfills exactly that need. Douglas Clark is one of the most qualified practitioners to write such a book. The book not only covers all the legal aspects of litigating patents in China, but also includes Clark's real-life perspective on China. This is a must-have desktop reference for anyone who has an interest in understanding and learning patent litigation in China." --Benjamin Bai Allen Overy LLP, Shanghai "Anyone working on China-related IPR issues realizes that there is no shortage of material on the subject. What sets this book apart is its comprehensive, yet concise and practical treatment of the PRC patent enforcement mechanisms. Douglas Clark's years of experience in China and his commercial flair are evident throughout. This is a resource that belongs on the shelf of every IP practitioner working in China." --Brenda J. Panichi Head, APAC Intellectual Property Syngenta Asia Pacific Pte. Ltd. "Patent Litigation in China is good for knowing what is going on in the China patent world and it is great for knowing what to do in that world if you believe someone is infringing on your patent or if someone believes you are infringing on theirs. It is also an excellent book to read just for getting a sense of how China's courts operate...I highly recommend Patent Litigation in China." --Dan Harris, China Law Blog, www.chinalawblog.com "This is an extremely useful guide for attorneys who want to proactively address the considerable challenges and risks associated with pursuing patent litigation in China. The coverage of the topic is both thorough and informative." --Stephen Jenei, Patent Baristas, www.patentbaristas.com About the Author Douglas Clark is an intellectual property lawyer who has practiced in China for more than 15 years. Until the end of 2010 he was a partner with the international law firm of Hogan Lovells and head of the firm's mainland China intellectual property practice as well as co-head of its worldwide patents group. Since 2011 he has worked as a sole practitioner. He has handled over 100 patent cases and over 2,000 intellectual property cases in China.