Ian Bache, Simon Bulmer, Stephen George, Owen Parker : Politics in the European Union before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Politics in the European Union:

Enhanced by an accessible writing style and a variety of pedagogical resources, Politics in the European Union, Fourth Edition, offers an up-to-date, balanced, and comprehensive introduction to the field by four expert authors. Divided into four sections--theory, history, institutions, and policies--it opens with detailed coverage of key theoretical concepts, which are also integrated and referred back to throughout the book in order to help students draw links between the EU in theory and in practice. Ideal for students who are approaching the subject for the first time, Politics in the European Union, Fourth Edition, incorporates a range of pedagogical features including insight boxes and a chronology. It is accompanied by an extensive Companion Website that contains resources for students--an interactive map of Europe, an interactive timeline of European integration, multiple-choice questions, a flashcard glossary, and related links--and instructors--PowerPoint-based slides, essay and seminar questions, and boxes and figures from the text.

Covers just about everything a student needs to know about the European Union, and then some... one of the best textbooks on the market. Vivien Schmidt, Boston University The most complete and comprehensive introduction to European integration available, This new edition catches up with the rapid developments that have taken place in the wake of the Lisbon Treaty and the Eurozone debt crisis and offers a compelling account of their impact on EU policy-making. Maximilian Conrad, University of Iceland Theory, history, institutions, and policies; these key aspects are each covered in depth with a set of accessible and engaging chapters. Kyriaki Nanou, University of Nottingham About the Author Ian Bache is Professor of Politics at the University of Sheffield. Simon Bulmer is Professor of Politics at the University of Sheffield.
