Steven Emanuel, Lazar Emanuel : Professional Responsibility (Law in a Flash Cards) (Double Card Set) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Professional Responsibility (Law in a Flash Cards) (Double Card Set):

I was irritated!!! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great review By K. Horne Used these cards to memorize rules and these cards are great for reinforcing the rules by examples and plain text rules. 4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. Exactly what you need to know By Ahamed B. Iqbal I used these cards because I was in the middle of taking Professional Responsibility and wanted to cover the things we hadn't gotten to before taking the MPRE. I started reading the cards 3 days before the test and probably spent 10-15 hours going through them. After reading a few cards I realized that they were also useful in refreshing the things I had already learned. I basically read all of the cards and pulled out ones that were new to me or that I wanted to review more. Then on the day of the test I went through the cards I had pulled out. The information on the cards is very clearly expressed and easy to understand. Most importantly the sample questions seem to be in the same format and approach as the MPRE questions. While some may find that this set is way too much information, it's easy enough to skip over sections or cards you already know or are comfortable with. My only (minor) complaint is that some of the party and attorney names are extremely corny and tend to distract from the actual question. But if you are prepared to roll your eyes at "Donald Chump" references, these cards are really useful.
