If you want to know how to be a prosecutor you need this book. Prior to reading this book I was floundering in my efforts to be a good prosecutor. After reading this a book I started this year off with two the major crimes convictions. Prior to the book I really did not know that I knew nothing about prosecuting. His three part method of prosecuting works. I used it in my previously mentioned trials and found that I had not only direction for my case but was able to better show the defendant's guilt. Most importantly, Prof Dekle is "from these parts" and can teach you how to connect with the jury. Although I wish he were a professor at the time I attended law school, his book reveals God given wisdom for a time when defense lawyers are stopping at nothing to "get the guy off."
