This book is a necessary "life tool."By Gina BowmanAs many of us are experiencing our parents' end of life decisions or lack thereof, it has become even more important to me to provide guidance for my loved ones when it is my time to "pass through." Read This...When I'm Dead is an essential tool to guide us through all the pertinent and difficult questions that need to be answered for our loved ones. I highly recommend it!!!!

Read This...TM When I'm Dead helps you gather all the important details about your life in one place for your loved ones. This fill-in-the-blank guidebook is presented in an upbeat and clever approach, and helps you journal answers to questions you loved ones will need and want to know. Who is the lawyer? Where are the keys to the boat? Where is that safe deposit box? Who are the pallbearers? Open casket or cremation? What organization should be listed for donations? Should it be a party or a wake? Did he want people to know about the struggles he overcame, or was that supposed to be private? These types of questions quickly come to mind during the "chaos" and accompanying fog when a loved one passes. Later more questions arise: What was that story about the streetcar? What was the name of the club he joined? Who was her best friend, and who gave her this bracelet? Where was the family from in Norway? What was so important about this old rocking chair? Is it valuable because of who made it or was it used in a famous movie scene? Read This...TM When I'm Dead helps you answer all these questions and more. It is a priceless gift for your loved ones. Live better knowing you have captured your life's treasures. Read ThisTM When Im Dead is presented by the Read This Gurus, Annie Presley and Christy Howard, and was inspired by their own experiences. Their desire is to engage, educate and inspire the ultimate author to organize their stuff, their stories and the emotional journeys of their lives. Read ThisTM When Im Dead is the first in the Read ThisTM series. The books help readers capture life's treasures as they reflect and quickly journal about meaningful matters. Now pertinent and priceless information is forever recorded leading to a sense of peace and better living.

"This book is great. I'm thinking about my aging parents, my kids and their kids. I can't even believe I'm a grandma already! When I'm gone, they will know everything about me and how to find my insurance, my bank accounts and the music I want played at my funeral." - Peggy, St. Louis, Missouri "A really unique approach to chronicling your personal journey and organizing key estate planning needs. Cleverly narrated by Annie and Christy's "avatars." It's friendly and peppered with their real-life experiences, advice, and tips to leaving your loved ones a thoughtful and useful guide." - Beth, Columbus, Ohio

About the Author

Following a fascinating career in law, politics and professional fundraising, Annie Presley was ready to write a book to help others. Together with her friend Christy Howard, they started the Read This... series, and the Read This Gurus were born. The books are purposeful, fill-in-the-blank guides that provide a place to journal memories and share thoughts with loved ones. Their first book, Read This...When I'm Dead, helps families get through the difficult days when a loved one passes. Presley learned as a young child that moms do die unexpectedly, and leave the living in tatters. In addition to being loaded with helpful resources and references, the book is a reflection about what Presley wishes she knew about her mom. Because she has had many beloved dogs and cats, "The Poop on My Pets" chapter is a favorite. After Read This...When I'm Dead won a 2015 Living Now book award, the women realized that the Read This... series would be a unique tool to engage, educate, and inspire people to capture life's treasures. Their second book, Read This...on Our Anniversary is a guide to help couples remember, record, celebrate and build on the strength in their relationships. Couples fill out the book together to craft the dreams of tomorrow and later recall the fun and challenges of yesterday. Despite having celebrated 11 anniversaries, the only one Presley and her husband can truly recall is the one they spent in the bottom of the Grand Canyon! Presley is available for public speaking appearances. For more information, visit www.readthis.guru and follow the Read This... series authors at Read This Guru on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram.

Christy Howard co-authored her first book, The Environmental Due Diligence Handbook, as a young lawyer. It wasn't exactly the type of book she had dreamed of writing! After starting her career as an attorney, she migrated to various corporate strategic positions and served on the executive committee of a global humanitarian organization (a favorite experience). Throughout her diverse career, Howard wanted to write an inspirational book to touch people's hearts. During conversations with Annie Presley, the women realized that they had experienced very different outcomes when faced with their mothers' mortality. Howard's mother has survived decades battling a rare disease, and along the way organized a file with financial information, family history and her final wishes. Howard felt blessed with this compilation in stark comparison to Presley's lack of information about Presley's mother who did not survive. Thus, they joined forces to create Read This...When I'm Dead to provide a friendly, upbeat guide for others. After Read This...When I'm Dead received a 2015 Living Now book award, the women realized that the Read This... series would be a great tool to engage, educate, and inspire people to capture life's treasures and thus, the Read This Gurus were born. Their second book, Read This...on Our Anniversary, is designed for couples to fill it out to celebrate fun memories and capture changes in their life together - with a goal of building a long, happy life together. When Howard isn't writing or spending time with her husband and daughter, she often finds herself helping friends and family organize - closets, drawers, kitchen cabinets. She and her husband realized early on that he was the "cleaner" and she was the "organizer" (a trait their daughter definitely inherited). The Read This... series has allowed Howard to achieve her dream of writing books to inspire and touch people's hearts, and the style enables her to use those crazy organizational skills. Her own closets and drawers are, however, starting to become a bit cluttered as she focuses on the Read This... series. Howard is available for public speaking appearances.
